Overview of the Spanish Army in the Napoleonic Wars (1812-1815)

The years 1812 to 1815 were critical in the Napoleonic conflicts, especially in Spain, where the resistance against French occupation intensified. The Spanish Army was characterized by a diverse composition, incorporating regular troops, militia, and guerrilla fighters, all contributing to a multifaceted resistance. By 1812, the Spanish military was recovering from the initial chaos of invasion and was increasingly organized into effective fighting forces.

This period also coincides with the decline of Napoleon's empire following the disastrous Russian campaign (1812) and the eventual Allied coalition victories. In Spain, the army's efforts were complemented by widespread guerrilla warfare, which significantly hampered French supply lines and morale.

Structure and Organization of the Spanish Army (1812-1815)
